

PHASES OF HEALTH WORK
DISCUSSED BY DENTISTS

Dr. Ballou Tells What May Be Done in Matter of Mouth Hygiene.

STATE IS WELL REPRESENTED
Committee Will Report Today on Recommendations Made in the Address of President Rudd—With Effect Officers This Afternoon.

Every section of the State is represented at the conference and meeting of the Virginia State Dental Association, the sessions of which are being held in the auditorium of the Jefferson Hotel. Dr. M. B. Ridd, of Richmond, is the presiding officer.

The business sessions began yesterday morning and continues through today, with thirty clinics scheduled for tomorrow.

D. N. Talley Ballou, director of mouth, nose and ear State Board of Health made a report yesterday on mouth hygiene, giving its history and development as a part of the State health work. He told the dentists present what they can do to further the work in Virginia.

Gives Review of Dentistry.

"Dental Reclamation Through Medical Revolution" was the subject of an address by Dr. John Bell Williams, professor of dental pathology, Medical College of Virginia, who spoke yesterday. The address was a review of dentistry and medicine, indicating their gradual development. He gave the records of their beginning, separation and reunion, and made a report on a survey of the present status of dentistry in Virginia hospitals as ascertained from a recent questionnaire of the most interesting addresses of the dental profession made by Dr. S. D. Ruggles of Portsmouth, Ohio, vice-chairman, section of stomatology, American Medical Association, on "Maxillo-Facial Reconstruction, Surgical and Prosthetic." He used lantern slides to illustrate his talk, and showed how deterioration of tissue or disease or accidents may be corrected.

During the day there were reports on various subjects on which action will be taken later.

Mr. Mansfield Clark, of Richmond, spoke in the afternoon on "Correlation of Dentistry in the Practice of Medicine." He is dean and professor of Clinical Medicine School of Medicine, Medical College of Virginia. He said the development of the theory of focal infection most strikingly emphasized their correlation. He discussed the necessity for a conservative prognosis rather than a dogmatic assurance of results, especially if such opinion is based on an incomplete survey of all potential factors, and emphasized the necessity of annual presentation on hospital wards, what their qualifications and duties should be and the importance of attendance at staff meetings.

Bag Exhibit in Hotel Lobby.

From 4 o'clock the afternoon was devoted to a general survey of the medical and surgical needs of the city. The Jefferson Hotel. Every kind of instrument used by dentists was shown, as well as other supplies and mouth washes, tooth pastes and other toilet necessities.

Dr. H. Wood, of Suffolk, president of the Virginia State Board of Dental Examiners, opened the eight meeting with an address on "The New Knowledge of Nutrition" and Dr. Paul R. Stillman, of New York followed with an address on "What Constitutes True Prophylaxis." Lantern slides were used to illustrate the talk, which was a general discussion of amateur dentistry, the standards of the dental profession, the dental code of ethics, the dentist's responsibility to the public and the importance of attendance at staff meetings.

To Be Conducted by F. H. McLean and Will Last About Two Months.

Survey of all social agencies in Richmond will be conducted by Francis H. McLean, of the American Association for Organizing Social Work, the Religious Council of Social Agencies reported yesterday. His survey, which will last about two months, will begin today.

WILL SURVEY CITY'S SOCIAL AGENCIES

He said the development of the theory of focal infection most strikingly emphasized their correlation. He discussed the necessity for a conservative prognosis rather than a dogmatic assurance of results, especially if such opinion is based on an incomplete survey of all potential factors, and emphasized the necessity of annual presentation on hospital wards, what their qualifications and duties should be and the importance of attendance at staff meetings.

At this meeting there will be a social feature consisting of a series of tableaux, produced by the membership and publicity committees, entitled "Girls of Yesterday and To-day."SEVEN PINES WINNER IN SCHOOL QUARREL

Judge R. Carter Scott sustains action of the Henrico County Trustee Electoral Board.

Seven Pines has won its fight for the retention of the public school of Henrico County.

Judge R. Carter Scott, of the Henrico County Circuit Court, yesterday sustained the action of the county trustee electoral board, and will on next Monday have entered the order closing the doors of the school in Fairfield and causing the children of that district of school age to attend the Seven Pines institution.

The decision of Judge Scott ended a fight that had been waged between Seven Pines and Fairfield for several weeks. It also upholds the action of the electoral board against the injunction suit brought by Fairfield citizens who contended that the board's action was unconstitutional and illegal.

Judge Scott, in announcing his decision, that his conclusion was based on the act of 1822, which does not destroy the power of the board in such matters.

Officers will be elected at the afternoon session, and tonight at 7 o'clock the annual banquet for the members of the association and their families will take place at the Jefferson.

VIRGINIA REJECTS CAMP LEE OFFER

State Has Not Sufficient Funds With Which to Make Necessary Repairs to Buildings and Grounds.

The State Military Board, in session yesterday in the executive offices of Governor Trinkle, rejected the proposition of the War Department to lease to the State of Virginia certain portions of Camp Lee, because the state, it was thought, would bear the expense of improvement and maintenance, and that the property be turned over to the government at time of emergency.

An engineer who made a survey of the site estimated that it would cost $100,000 to make the necessary repairs to buildings and improvements to the grounds, and the amount of money the board deemed that the state did not have sufficient funds for that purpose.

Virginia Beach Camp is being used for a summer camp, but the State feels a need for a mobilization camp, and it was hoped that part of Camp Lee could be obtained for that purpose.

To Attend Football Game.

Accepting on behalf of the Richmond Rotary Club an invitation to attend the Virginia-Washington and Duke football game, which is to be played Saturday, Oct. 25, President John C. White of the Richmond Rotary Club announced yesterday that the club would attend the game, leaving Richmond in a chartered train early on the morning of November 4, returning late that night. The invitation was extended by R. T. Minor, Jr., president of the Charlotteville Rotary Club. President White stated yesterday he expected that at least 100 members of the local club would take the trip. Alumni of both universities will be invited to accompany the Rotarians.

Stock Estate Is $1,000.

The will of Frank J. Strike was probated in Chancery Court yesterday, with Frank J. Strike as executrix. The estate is valued at $1,000 and is bequeathed to the widow. The Federal Trust Company qualified as administrator of the estate of Mary Jennings, valued at $1,000.

VOLUNTARILY GOES TO JAIL TO CONQUER LIQUOR HABIT

Self-Imposed Time-Server, Whose "Capacity" Was Two Pints of "Corn" a Day, Appeals to Police Justice Ingram.

Police Justice John L. Ingram stated yesterday that he is now more than ever in favor of a city farm, and gave as an added reason an illustration of a man who came to him a single-handed, and who had placed some institutions here he might be cured of the drinking habit.

"Unfortunately for him," said Justice Ingram, "the prohibition laws, among other things, put out of business all such institutions, and there was nothing in them I could offer him." He looked very much depressed and fatigued, for he said he had grown into the habit of drinking two pints of corn liquor a day, and couldn't get away from it. He told him the only thing I could do is to intercede for him for a room in the City Jail. He brightened up

Y. W. C. A. MEMBERSHIP TO ACT ON CAMP PROJECT

Officials Hope Question Will Be Settled at Meeting Tomorrow Night.

The question of the purchase by the Y. W. C. A. of a strip of land equipped for campers will form the major part of the discussion at the adjourned membership meeting of the association tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. Building.

The camp in question is located at Centreville, eleven miles from Richmond, and consists of 210 acres and a comfortable house containing fifteen girls, and a barn for recreational purposes. This matter has developed considerable enthusiasm, and there seems to be little doubt but that the action of the meeting of Saturday night will be to accept the camp project.

Mrs. Robert E. Speer, wife of Dr. Robert E. Speer, the noted eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, will be present at this meeting in her official capacity as president of the national board of the Y. W. C. A.

So that the matter may be settled at this meeting, proxies have been issued to the 1,000 voting members of the Y. W. C. A. and at ready men have been returned. Officers of the association are extremely anxious to receive enough proxies before Saturday night to guarantee a majority vote. If insufficient proxies are returned so that, with the membership present at the meeting, there is less than a majority vote, the proposed camp will have to be indefinitely postponed, which would be a severe blow to the activities of the association.

At this meeting there will be a social feature consisting of a series of tableaux, produced by the membership and publicity committees, entitled "Girls of Yesterday and To-day."

SPEAK IN ADVOCACY OF PUBLIC GOLF LINKS

Richmond First Club Names Committee to Consider Proposal Now Before City Council.

L. Mck. Judkins, representing the Community Recreation Association of the Y. W. C. A., spoke yesterday at the meeting of the Richmond First Club at the Y. W. C. A. last night, spoke earnestly in support of public golf links in the city. The various golf clubs of the city have concurred with, thereby gratifying my long held ambitions, yet in my very comparative youth I owe my family the duty of providing for their material need and education.

"I have no doubt that there are other men of honest, able qualifications possessing ideals of humanity and character who will likewise be willing to overlook financial consideration to accept the honorable position."

Former President Roy Dudley spoke of the progress being made by his Council in the public library matter, and expressed the belief that the city would go through both branches of Council with practically no opposition.

President Eddie Hertz, of the advertising club, extended an invitation to the club to break bread with a organization at an early meeting.

Contributions to the burial fund for the convict suicide Faust Beaufort will close tonight at the Broad Street Bank. W. Richard Lewis, 1101 Grove Avenue, who started the movement for a decent burial of the suicide, stated that it was necessary that the funds be in hand at that time in order to exonerate the remains of Faust and to aid the convicts' widow who is in deplorable circumstances in Norfolk. It is the plan of those interested in the movement to send the widow to her home in France, or to her late husband's parents in Canada.

Burial Fund Closes Tonight.

Judge Scott, in the city Circuit Court yesterday issued an order permitting H. J. McMillen, T. F. Tandy and William S. Ware, colored trustees of the Hood Temple, at 11th and Adams Streets, to borrow $20,000 on the church property, to be used in the payment of a balance in the purchase of the building which was formerly known as the May Street Methodist Church.

Franklin Sugar Refining Company Acts Against Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc.

Trial of the suit of the Franklin Sugar Refining Company, of Pennsylvania, against the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., of Virginia, with prominent officers in Richmond, was delayed because of failure to carry out contracts entered into for the delivery of sugar valued at $125,000, was begun in the United States District Court, and at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon court adjourned to reconvene this morning at 10 o'clock. Judge D. Lawrence Groener is presiding.

Several witnesses for the plaintiff, including Charles Syer, manager of the Baltimore plant of the Franklin Sugar Refining Company, were heard yesterday, and it is expected that their case will close early today. A number of witnesses for the defense will be put on the stand, it is said.

It is alleged in the bill filed by the Franklin Sugar Refining Company that the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., various times, entered into contracts with the defendant company to purchase several thousand barrels of sugar at 22 1/2 cents per pound and afterwards acted that delivery be withheld for a reasonable length of time. In September, 1920, efforts were made by the Franklin Sugar Refining Company, it is claimed, to induce the defendant corporation to return the sugar and when it was refused the company filed a complaint.

Richard Agostini, convicted at the June term of the Circuit Court of the city of Norfolk, on a charge of felonious assault upon John A. Kelly, was granted an appeal. Agostini's petition points out, among things, that he was not permitted to enter in the instructions to the jury the fact that he was the employee of a construction company and approached Kelly concerning the correction of some errors.

An appeal was granted Jack D. Kirby, infant, who sued his next friend, Charles E. Bailey, Walter Shannon and J. A. Florence, partners, trading as Shannon & Florence, Norfolk druggists. Kirby was granted as a night errand boy, lost one of his shoes, when a thief stole the drug company, and left Kirby in the hands of the police. Kirby was charged with being a night errand boy, and was discharged.

Scouting has been contributed to the city by the Sons of Confederate Veterans, and the supporters are not taking the matter seriously. Director D. W. Durrett stated yesterday. When people realize that this thing is not going over the top by leaps and bounds, but is really falling short of the target necessities, the letter it will for the entire city, he continued.

"For the first time in years Richmond has enjoyed the blessing of Scouting," Mr. Durrett declared. "Scouting is one of the foremost sports in the United States. We could hardly do without it, every one agrees. Scouting must grow bigger and larger instead of standing still. Unless you get the money to defray expenses, how can we grow?"

With Authorization Stock.

Stockholders of the Continental Motor Corporation will meet in special session here at 2 o'clock October 25, for the purpose of authorizing the creation of 3,000,000 shares of common stock, without par value, in lieu of the present 1,500,000 shares of common stock having a par value of $10 each.
